

In high-income countries the majority of people who die are old. But in low-income countries, children under 5 account for one in three deaths.

Deaths by sex and age group, 2010–15

Note: Ages 80 and older are combined into a single group.

Source: UN Population Division, World Population Prospects 2017.