

Low-income countries tend to be more vulnerable to, and less equipped to invest against, extreme climate impacts.

Vulnerability to climate hazards, score, by country, 2016 (0–1, higher is more vulnerable)

Source: Notre Dame Global Adaptation Initiative Country Index (database). <https://gain.nd.edu/our-work/country-index>